1. In order to effectively manage and maintain the quality of life of the resident students, this note is established in accordance with the "Student Residence Hall Residential Life Regulations No. 2".
2. If a resident student violates the living agreement, the head teacher of the student counseling team, the dormitory contractors and the staff of the board of trustees (except for the head of the household and the head of the room) may deduct points in accordance with these regulations. If the number of points deducted from a resident student reaches 10 or more points, the student counseling team may sign a withdrawal from the dormitory and notify his/her parents of the action by letter or by phone.
3. If a resident student has outstanding performance during his/her stay in the dormitory, the student counseling team, the head teacher of the student counseling team, the dormitory contractors, and the members of the board of trustees (except for the head of the household and the head of the room) will be allowed to record the extra points in accordance with the provisions of this regulation, and the resident student will be allowed to participate in the application for the residence of the following academic year according to the number of extra points (according to the application for the application for the student dormitory in accordance with the regulations of the Student Dormitory Management Regulations, Article 7).
4. The way to keep track of points is divided into:
  - A. The deductions are divided into three parts: personal, dormitory, and household:
    - I. Individuals who violate the rules will be deducted points according to the number of points deducted (e.g., if the duty student fails to fulfill his/her responsibility of environmental maintenance, the duty student will be deducted points).
    - II. If the dormitory area violates the rules (e.g., the dormitory is dirty after leaving the dormitory), points will be deducted from the whole dormitory according to the number of points deducted.
    - III. If the whole household violates the rules (e.g., the space in the room is dirty after leaving the dormitory), the points of the whole household will be deducted according to the number of points deducted.
  - B. Award Points: If you are eligible for an award, you may register for additional points in accordance with the required number of points.
  - C. Points may be added or deducted in accordance with the criteria for demerit points, depending on the severity of the case.

D. Deductions and extra points may be offset against each other.
